

GREENBUILDING
INSTITUTE

THE TAX BENEFITS OF GOING GREEN

Green is more affordable than you think! Learn about the various Federal and Maryland green tax credits and other tax incentives available to individuals and small businesses. Examples of topics to be covered are residential energy credits, credits for alternative fuel vehicles and investment tax credits for businesses as well as accelerated depreciation. This is a workshop presented by a tax professional and geared towards everyday consumers and business owners.

Instructor:

Barry D. Fields, CPA, MST

Barry is a professional in the tax department of Bormel, Grice & Huyett, P.A. located in Laurel, MD. Barry provides a full range of tax and consulting services for a client base including contractors, service providers, real estate professionals, individuals, partnerships, limited liability companies, and corporations.

With the growing complexity of tax laws accompanying the green building movement, Barry has developed a specialty in green tax incentives and their practical application in today's building industry. He serves as Treasurer of the Green Building Institute located in Jessup, Maryland. Barry lives in Columbia, MD with his wife and two children and has a passion for cooking.
